Funeral Services to be Held at Mt. McGregor To-Day.

A WARNING WORD FROM THE "SUN"

General Miles Starts a Monument Fund—Fitzhugh Lee to Serve as Aide—News Items from the National Capital

MT McGREGOR Aug 3—General Hancock arrived here this morning. He telegraphed here from Saratoga that no salutes should be fired in his honor upon his arrival at Mt McGregor as it would be in bad taste. The general marched at the head of his staff up the slope to the cottage where he was met by Colonel Grant. None but the general and his staff officers were admitted to the cottage at that time but later the doors were thrown open to the general public

THE EXERCISES TO DAY.

Notwithstanding the heat, main trains up the mountain from Saratoga were crowded and the single file of those who passed through the cottage to view the remains did not cease till 6 o'clock. Funeral service over the remains of the departed general will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning and probably will be concluded about noon. Rev Dr Newman will deliver the funeral sermon inside the cottage if it is stormy, from the veranda if fair. Dr Newman will not speak either at Albany or New York. The Grand Army burial services will be conducted at New York by Meade post of Philadelphia. General Hancock and staff will come up from Saratoga in the morning in time for service and General Sherman will accompany them. The programme of saluting with cannon to-morrow according to the order of the war department will be thirteen guns at sunrise, thirty-eight at sunset, and one gun every half hour throughout the day. After the ceremonies to-morrow the remains will be taken to the train and conveyed thence to Albany

Colonel Grant this evening issued an invitation to all representatives of foreign nations accredited to this government to participate in the ceremonies in New York

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION.

NEW YORK Aug 3—New York will present next Saturday a scene of public and general mourning such as never has been seen in it or at any other American city before. The funeral of Lincoln is the only occasion that can be compared with this though the present demonstration is far more imposing than the Lincoln mourning. Real estate men are doing a rushing business in renting buildings, windows and seats to those who desire to view the funeral procession. There has already been such a demand for place of observation that no fixed prices are set but bids are invited. Six windows in a Fifth avenue residence sold for one hundred dollars to a speculator yesterday. He claims to have already contracted for seats at prices that will pay him handsomely. Regular agencies have been established where seats can be secured. It is estimated that the funeral will attract a larger number of people than any event that has occurred in the city. The bulk of the crowd will be packed along Broadway and Fifth avenue below Thirty-fourth street

A SENSIBLE WARNING.

NEW YORK, August 3.—The Sun, in an editorial headed "Cruelty of a Long Parade," says: It is fitting that the memory of General Grant should be honored by the most impressive military funeral the country has ever seen but the pageant will cost too much if it demands the sacrifice of a single human life. We fear that a number of lives certainly will be lost unless the idea of a nine mile march is abandoned. How many persons are there among those who propose to take part in the procession on Saturday next who could prudently undertake a simple walk of nine miles under the burning sun of an August day in our climate. The parade will occupy many hours from early morning until late in the afternoon and will involve long and weary waiting. The participants must remain without food until the day's work is over and unless the city is refreshed by a cool wave from the west many soldiers and civilians will sink and fall in the ranks or by the wayside as the great procession moves on.

WASHINGTON STILL HAS HOPES.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—It is understood that at the instance of Grand Army of the Republic men in a resolution will be introduced in congress next winter declaring it to be the wish of the nation that the remains of General Grant be placed in the custody of the nation and be deposited here at the national capitol in order that a national monument to his memory may be erected. The Capitol says that General Logan will be asked to introduce this resolution in the senate and adds: The movers in this matter have a bill which will follow the passage of the resolution proposing the extension of the main building of the capitol toward the east and they propose to have a tomb placed in it after the design of that of Napoleon in the Invalides. Another idea is for a grand national Valhalla to be placed opposite the proposed national library to the east of the capitol. It is certain that the idea of bringing Grant's remains to Washington is finally fixed and will not be allowed to die out

NOTICE TO CONGRESSMEN.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—Clerk Clark of the house of representatives wishes all congressmen who desire to attend General Grant's funeral to telegraph him at Washington so that General Hancock may be advised and provision made for them in the line of the procession

A SORDID SCHEME.

ALBANY Aug 3—Efforts are being made by speculators to obtain possession of the car and catafalque on which General Grant will be carried to the final resting place for exhibition purposes after the funeral. Governor Hill says the catafalque belongs to the United States government

FITZHUGH LEE TO SERVE AS AID.

ALEXANDRIA Va Aug 3—The following telegraphic correspondence passed to-day between General Fitzhugh Lee and General Hancock:

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND.

Gen Fitzhugh Lee, Alexandria Va.: Would it be agreeable to you to be appointed as aid on the occasion of the ceremonies in connection with the obsequies of General Grant? If it would you will be so announced. Please reply by telegraph.
W S HANCOCK, Major General

ALEXANDRIA Va.

To General Hancock, Mt McGregor: Your telegram received. I accept the position because by so doing I can testify my respect for the memory of a great soldier and thus return as far as I can the generous feelings he has expressed towards the soldiers of the south.
FITZHUGH LEE

GENERAL MILES HEARD FROM.

LEAVENWORTH Ks Aug 3—A meeting was held at General Miles' headquarters at Fort Leavenworth to-day for the purpose of devising plans for raising a subscription fund to place a Grant monument on the military reservation at Fort Leavenworth. General Miles presided. Among those present from abroad were ex-Governor Crittenden of Missouri, Governor Martin of Kansas, Colonel Stewart, department commander of the G. A. R. of Kansas and General Ruger and General Martin of the army. A committee of arrangements was appointed with General Miles as chairman. The idea of placing a Grant monument west of the Mississippi river at Fort Leavenworth originated with General Miles and Sheridan in a conversation between these gentlemen while on a trip to Indian territory

A CONTRAST.

PHILADELPHIA Aug 3. The Bulletin says: While Sherman and Sheridan hasten from the west to do honor to their old commander McClellan quietly packs his trunks and starts for Colorado

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS CABINET.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—It is probable that the president will visit Albany after the funeral of General Grant and before he goes to the mountains. Secretary Manning, who will spend the month of August at Watchhill Conn with his family, will probably accompany him to Albany. It is expected Secretary Lamar and Attorney General Garland will remain in Washington during the president's absence. Other members of the cabinet will take vacations. Owing to the illness of Mrs Bayard it is not expected that the secretary of state will spend much of the summer season at Washington. Secretaries Endicott and Whitney and Postmaster General Vilas will spend most of the summer at their homes. The two former will make short visits to Washington whenever their presence is required. It is not definitely settled what day the presidential party will leave Washington for New York but it will be either Thursday or Friday of this week, most likely the latter

VIRTUALLY NO REDUCTION.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—The statement for the first month of the new fiscal year shows an alleged reduction in the public debt of $3 66? 790 against about $4 000 000 for July 1884. The reduction for the month just closed does not affect the principal of the bonded debt and as a matter of fact there has been no reduction whatever in the sense that the general reader would suppose in reading the official announcement of the government's fiscal operations for July. The reported reduction was obtained by payment of interest on the debt—that is to say during the month of July interest due and payable and that accrued amounted to a certain sum which was of course added to the treasury obligations and that amount, about $8 000 000, was paid, leaving the principal of the debt in precisely the same condition as on June 30th

A DECISION.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—The attorney general has rendered a decision that Behacke, a pardoned criminal who recently arrived at New York from Bremen, may be permitted to land inasmuch as the pardon was not granted on condition of emigration.

THE CONSULAR SERVICE.

WASHINGTON Aug. 3.—A prominent state department official says reorganization of the consular service will be completed about January next. There is said to be an increased inclination among business men to re-enter South American markets. Consuls of new territory will be expected to make such reports of the resources of the country as will be valuable to the business men in deciding upon trading with those states. Some severe comments are being made upon consuls in South America and Central America. About 200 consular posts yet remain to be filled, a majority of small agencies paying salaries or fees amounting to $1000 each

A VIRGINIA APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—The president to-day commissioned Baker P. Lee to be collector of customs at Yankton Va. The appointment was made some time ago but the commission was withheld in order that further investigation of charges against the incumbent might be made. The investigation has been made and the incumbent suspended. Lee was a prominent candidate for the nomination of governor at the recent Virginia state democratic convention

THERE WILL BE NO CHANGE.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—Secretary Manning says no change will be made in the office of appointment division and it was never contemplated that Albright should succeed Higgins

A BIG BATCH.

WASHINGTON Aug 3—Two hundred and forty appointments to fourth class postmasterships were announced to-day

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

THE SILVER QUESTION.

NEW YORK, Aug 3—The Sun in a leader says: The present loan of gold to the treasury by the banks of this city was made expressly on assurance that the gold would be needed only until the meeting of congress in December and this is the general opinion of bankers and merchants in this section of the country. The Sun thinks the facts of past silver legislation and the prospects of future action of the house founded on ascertained views of members justify the conclusion that any proposition looking to the stoppage of the coining of the silver dollar will probably meet the same fate in the new house that it did in the last one. This opinion is already expressed by Senator Sherman and by Representative Randall of Pennsylvania who are much better judges of the matter than Wall street bank presidents. The Sun also says that the only recent utterances against silver coinage heard in the south came from a few bankers and merchants living in large cities who like their brethren here know little or nothing of the sentiments of the great mass of their fellow citizens on this public question. An analysis of the house vote as at present constituted shows 12 votes at the outside favoring stoppage of silver coinage which is 30 less than necessary for a majority on a full vote

THE AMALGAMATED ASSOCIATION.

PITTSBURG May 3—The annual convention of the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers meets at Wheeling West Virginia, to-morrow and will probably continue in session till Saturday. President Weihe and the Pittsburg delegation left for Wheeling this evening. Before leaving Weihe stated that he would positively refuse to be a candidate for re-election. Among those prominently mentioned for the position are ex-Presidents John Jarrett and Joseph Bishop, James H. Nutt of Youngstown, Ohio, Andrew Lee of Philadelphia, Samuel Carpenter of Springfield Illinois and John Morgan of this city

A SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE MEMORIAL.

NEW YORK Aug 3—Representatives of various Jewish congregations met last night for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of the late Sir Moses Montefiore. Organization was effected by the election of officers and it was stated $10 000 had already been subscribed towards the erection of a monument to the renowned philanthropist. It is intended to erect a monument or statue in Central park

ADDRESS TO THE CLERGY.

NEW YORK Aug 3—The monument association to-day issues an address to the clergy of the United States suggesting that contributions be asked in their respective churches at services on the Sunday following the burial of General Grant, this contribution to go towards the erection of a monument to his memory above his grave

A FEARFUL LEAP.

NASHVILLE, Aug 3. To-day while under the influence of liquor Henry Vanderfeight a baker leaped from the suspension bridge into the Cumberland river 110 feet below. He turned several times in the air and struck the water with terrific force but will probably recover

RAILROAD NOTES

THE UNION PACIFIC SQUEEZED.

NEW YORK Aug 3—Reviewing Wall street for the week the Herald says: The movement of Union Pacific has given some color to rumors of big interests looking for the purchase by the three lines of the St Paul, Chicago and Omaha line. At present the Union Pacific is virtually cut off in competition for freight shipped from Chicago to Nebraska points, unless by taking traffic at losing rates. Between the Chicago and Northwestern running north of it and the Chicago Burlington and Quincy draining the country on its south and running through from Chicago to Denver tapping the Union Pacific at four different places the life will soon be sapped out of the Union Pacific unless it can get a continuation of its line to Chicago

GENERAL NEWS.

A Terrific Cyclone Sweeps Over Philadelphia.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE HOMELESS

Sarah Althea Hill Draws a Revolver on a Lawyer —From Portland to Yaquina Bay in One Day— News Items from San Francisco

PHILADELPHIA August 3.—A terrific cyclone sweeping up the Delaware river this afternoon struck this city near Greenwich point demolishing a portion of the works of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company and injuring several employes. Then it took a course across the river, wrecking the river steamer Major Reybold and the ferryboat Peerless. The storm blew Pilot Emory Townsend and Captain Eugene Reybold of the steamer Reybold into the river, drowning the former and painfully injuring the captain. The Peerless was swept clean almost to the water's edge. When the Major Reybold was struck it was seen that the cyclone's immense force came from its rotary motion. Several people were thrown through a hole to the lower deck and all the upper works were swept away like chaff. The confusion among the passengers was indescribable and several jumped into the river, but it is believed that all were rescued

While the cyclone was upon the vessel everything was black as the blackest night. Sofas were broken to splinters and carpet torn to shreds in the cabin as if they had been paper. The cyclone lasted about a minute, and after it passed the vessel rolled and pitched fearfully in the great wave and came near swamping.

THE STORM'S PATH.

The storm then passed over to the Jersey side striking John Dialogue's shipyards below Kaighn's point and destroying the buildings of the establishment. Then it took a course along the New Jersey river demolishing all the buildings in its path up to the bridge at Camden. At this point the cyclone took an easterly course to Fifth street, Camden, embracing in its path all that section of the city between Second and Fifth streets to the Delaware river, which washes the northern section of the city.

Passing over the river and skirting Petty's island the storm passed over to that part of the 25th ward of Philadelphia known as Richmond. In its ravages in Camden scores of dwelling houses were unroofed and some of them thrown down and the damage to business property along the river front is enormous. Hundreds of families are rendered homeless and one victim, Charles Dazey, was killed outright

At the American dredging company's wharf another, Harry Stevens, had a leg cut off by a flying piece of timber and will probably die.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

The track of the storm through Richmond marked with death and destruction was almost due north from the Port Richmond coal wharves. About 150 dwelling houses were wrecked or so badly damaged as to be rendered unfit for habitation, and 200 families were driven from their homes to be cared for by neighbors.

A number of persons were seriously and some fatally injured. A girl of 20 years, Lizzie McVeigh, was killed at her home 17? Melvale street in sight of her mother, who was herself pinioned to the floor by falling rafters a few feet from the dying child

The cyclone is described by those who witnessed its progress in the river as an immense black cone shaped cloud with the apex resting upon the water and the base mingling with rain clouds which hung in dense masses from the sky. It is impossible yet to estimate the amount of damage done

AN OBSERVER'S STATEMENT.

John Dialogue, of Camden, whose works were destroyed, says: Looking out of the door upon the river I saw the tornado's approach. I could see the buildings of the Philadelphia salt works on the Philadelphia side going off like chaff. Then the storm struck the Major Reybold, which was partially abreast of my place. Portions of her upper works were hurled fully 400 feet into air, a tremendous roar preceded it. The moving fury resembled a dense mass of rolling black smoke and it traveled within ten feet of the surface of the river. A singular phenomenon was noticed not only by myself but by all my men in the yards. This was a huge ball of fire fully ten feet in diameter which whirled at amplified the storm cloud. After playing havoc with my establishment, I saw this ball of fire explode about 250 yards north of me with a report so terrific as to shake the very foundations of buildings in my yard. Following this came a number of explosions but with less force. All the sky to the eastward was unusually bright and had a sort of rainbow appearance. In fact this was one of the most remarkable sights of the kind that I had ever seen. The ball of fire which exploded I am satisfied played the mischief at the American dredging company's place

MORE PARTICULARS.

Short & Harb's three story mill on Salmon street, Richmond, this city, was completely wrecked and scattered in all directions. There were about eighty people employed at the mill, most of them young girls and the effect was to throw them into a panic. A large number jumped from the second story windows and were only slightly injured while others were hurled to the ground with the falling walls, and struck by flying timbers and bricks

Before the storm the air was filled with flying debris and people seeing the awful sight fled in terror by hundreds to the cellars. The cyclone lasted between four and five minutes and was marked with terrific puffs and roars. It is a singular fact that flat roofed houses suffered most. The wind with the greatest ease catching them under the corners lifted them as though they were sheets of paper. There is hardly an instance where a mansard roof building was wrecked.

So great was the violence of the wind that the fronts and sides of houses and bay windows were mashed as if they were egg shells. Roofs were carried hundreds of yards away, shade trees were mowed down like platoons of soldiery on a battlefield and great monster trees that had stood the storms of years were uprooted or broken off like pipestems. The eccentricities of the wind could be seen on every side. Buildings which it would seem an ordinary storm would demolish, and which were in the direct path of the storm, were spared, while their neighbors, modern structures of brick, would be gutted or wrecked outright

IN MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE Aug 3—Advices from various points throughout the state show that the storm to-day was the most disastrous that ever visited this section. A cyclone swept a path 200 yards in width through Cecil county. Houses, mills and bridges were carried away, trees blown half a mile and a loaded freight train with all brakes down was blown a mile along the track. Two men were badly injured by being struck with flying debris. Through Middleton valley very heavy damage is reported. The loss throughout the state is roughly estimated at $150 000 and may considerably exceed that

IN DELAWARE.

SMYRNA Del Aug 3—A terrible cyclone visited this section this afternoon, totally destroying property for a mile in length, 100 feet wide. Stock was killed and orchards destroyed. [illegible] No one is known to be lost

FLOOD IN THE EAST.

READING Pa., Aug 3—Rain this morning was very heavy and appeared like a cloud burst. Many streets were filled with water from curb to curb. Cellars of many houses were flooded, and workmen were driven out of many foundries by water running into the working rooms. Great damage was done to orchards and the tobacco crop

BALTIMORE, Aug 3—It has rained so heavily here to-day that Jones falls overflowed, and Harrison street and the center of the market space are inundated to a depth of two feet. Cellars are flooded in the western section of the city. A Frederick City creek overflowed its banks and residents in the depressed portion of this city were all driven from their homes

SARAH ALTHEA DRAWS A REVOLVER.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 3—The celebrated divorce case of Hill versus Sharon, which is now going on under the reversed form of Sharon versus Hill, in the United States circuit court to have the alleged marriage contract declared void, was this afternoon again productive of an exciting incident and which for a moment looked as though it would result in a tragedy. Testimony in the case was being taken before the master in chancery, when a number of photographs of various documents in possession of Miss Hill were exhibited. Judge Evans and Ex-Senator Stewart, of counsel for Sharon, took exception to certain defects in the photographs and characterized them as unreliable. Miss Hill became greatly excited at their comments and thrusting her hand into a satchel drew out a revolver, which she pointed at ex-Senator Stewart, remarking if he continued in his strictures she would make him pay dearly for her. A general commotion followed. Master in Chancery Houghton advanced toward the lady and urgently requested her to remain calm. He finally succeeded in obtaining possession of the revolver and adjourned further hearing till to-morrow. Before he did so Miss Hill is stated to have remarked:

I am bound to kill Stewart before this trial is over and I don't know but what I would better do it now. Application was immediately made to Judge Sawyer for a warrant for her arrest

MEETING OF EX CONFEDERATES.

A formal meeting of ex-confederate soldiers was held this evening at the Lick house, to decide upon measures to take part in the Grant memorial services on Saturday next. Colonel Flournoy occupied the chair, and C D White was appointed secretary. Committees were appointed, after which an eloquent speech was made by Colonel Harry L. Thornton. Resolutions were adopted expressive of the great loss the country and the people had suffered in the loss of General Grant. A roll call will be opened for the signatures of all ex-confederates who choose to take part. A letter from the grand marshal of the Grant memorial day was read extending a cordial invitation to join in the parade

THE SHARON HILL TROUBLE.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 3—Dr R. U. Piper of Chicago who came here as expert in the celebrated Sharon Hill marriage contract gave as a result of his examination that the words "William Sharon of Nevada" appended to the contract, were in the handwriting of Max Gumpel, expert for Miss Hill. The latter brought suit against Piper claiming his statement had a tendency to invalidate her document. Judge Lawler to-day said Piper made no accusation of forgery but simply stated whose handwriting he believed it was. The case was dismissed

JOHN D. SPRECKELS INTERVIEWED.

John D. Spreckels, president of the Oceanic Steamship Company, said this afternoon: "We understand the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will positively withdraw their line to Australia after November. The move of the Pacific Mail Company we do not take to be a bluff. After November 1 unless we conclude to undertake the enterprise, there will be no steamer line between here and Australia—that is, if some English line does not come into the field. If we undertake the business we can run it in connection with our Honolulu traffic line."

THE DEATH RATE.

Health Officer Meares to-day filed with the supervisors his annual report for the past fiscal year. During the year there were 5288 deaths against 5000 of the preceding year. Estimating our population at 270,000 the annual ratio of deaths per 1000 was 19 58 against 18.13 of the preceding year. According to these figures it is claimed that there is no city including most of those in Europe and America of equal or larger population than San Francisco which has so low a death rate

CHINESE GAMBLING RETREAT RAIDED.

SACRAMENTO, Aug 3.—Since all unlawful gambling games in this city were suppressed by the authorities, some time since, the Chinese have complained bitterly and more recently have been continuing to defy the law by making in Chinatown an unassailable gambling retreat, within numerous thicknesses of brick walls and iron doors. The Chinese were notified by the authorities not to attempt a violation of the law as force would be used to demolish the structures if necessary to prevent unlawful games. The work of defiance, by continuing to construct the barricade, continued and was just completed, when a man appointed to shadow the place notified the police. This noon the game was begun and many had entered to gamble. A raid at once was made by the entire police force. All points of exit were guarded and the iron doors then battered down one after another, until the inner room was reached and the entire gang of twenty six, with a full gambling layout, were securely bagged. The inmates were mostly armed with pistols, knives etc. but were handcuffed into groups and marched to the city prison without any casualties.

HOT WEATHER AT MERCED.

MERCED Aug 3—To-day and yesterday the weather has been the hottest ever experienced in this valley. Yesterday the thermometer showed at different points of town from 104 to 110 degrees in the shade, and to-day from 106 to 114 in brick buildings. So far no sunstroke or prostration by heat has been reported and the extreme heat has not proved injurious to sick persons confined to their beds, though the air was so hot throughout the day that to touch wood or metal in the shade was painful to one's fingers

PROCLAMATION.

SACRAMENTO Aug 3—Governor Stoneman has issued a proclamation recommending that all public buildings of the state and also the county and municipal buildings be draped in mourning on August 8, the day of Grant's funeral. It also recommends that on that day all business both public and private be suspended

TO YAQUINA IN ONE DAY.

YAQUINA via Corvallis Aug 3—A special train has just arrived here over the Oregon Pacific railroad, in charge of General Superintendent H. V. Gates, having on board Senator T. E. Cauthorn and Hon W. P. Keady of Corvallis and H. L. Pittock and F. L. Coldwell of THE OREGONIAN with a package of OREGONIANS of this morning. Messrs. Pittock and Coldwell left Portland at 7 A. this morning and came via Albany to Corvallis where they were furnished with a special train. They are the first persons who have ever arrived here from Portland on the day of leaving, there. THE OREGONIANS they brought were the first ever seen here on the day of publication. They were heartily welcomed and express themselves as highly delighted with their trip

UTAH.

THE MORMON SIDE OF THE STORY.

SALT LAKE Aug 3—Statements published east in regard to difficulty being averted here July 24th through the efforts of Governor Murray to preserve order cause considerable indignation amongst people knowing the facts, and are considered a burlesque as there was no possibility of trouble on the part of the Mormon people and Murray had nothing to take measures about. All celebrations were postponed in respect to the memory of General Grant and the day passed with general quietness. Arrangements are now being perfected to hold memorial services throughout Utah on the day of General Grant's funeral, regret at his loss being sincere and general

THE TORONTO FIRE.

TORONTO Aug 3.—The fire last night was the most destructive that ever occurred in this city. An hour after it broke out in the eight story glucose factory the flames extended for half a mile along the south side of the esplanade. Scores of vessels of all kinds were moored along the docks and all were destroyed.

Henry Wort, a private watchman, is known to have perished in the flames

The most exciting scenes were on the craft at the docks. The crews were cut off by the fire from the docks, and as the vessels caught fire they were forced to jump into the water and swim for their lives. So rapidly did the fire spread that small boats were consumed before they could be launched and the sailors in the water had to depend upon their own strength until tugs from the outside could pick them up. As it was many of them were badly scorched and it is feared some fatally.

The exact loss or insurance cannot yet be given. But the loss is estimated at over a million dollars. The glucose works were valued at $250 000, the schooner Annie Milloy valued at $2? 000 and another schooner valued at $30,000 were burned to the water's edge. Among other buildings burned were a number of boat houses and warehouses on the river front and the coal docks. A fleet of ferry steamers forming a ? of the [illegible] street were also destroyed

THE RIEL VERDICT.

TORONTO Aug 3.—The verdict of the jury in the Riel trial is looked upon here as a just one. Opinion is freely expressed that Riel should suffer the extreme penalty of the law

RUSSIA.

A GREAT EARTHQUAKE.

LONDON Aug 3—Dispatches from Kashden, Asiatic Russia, say a great earthquake has visited that region. It damaged most of the houses in the town of Bisheerzek and ruined the cities of Suluk and Belvoodsk. In the latter place a church was shaken to fragments while it was crowded with worshipers, a large number of whom were killed. The earth opened in great fissures in Belvoodsk, and many people were swallowed up. Later advices say that fifty four persons were killed and sixty four injured. Shocks continue to be felt and the inhabitants are panic stricken

THE SOUDAN.

Stinginess of Royalty.
New York World.

Queen Victoria annually receives for her private purse $300,000, the most if not all of which she permanently invests, or otherwise "puts away" till she becomes the richest woman in the world. She can and does save this money because in addition there is an annual appropriation of the people's money for the salaries and expenses of her household to the enormous amount of $1 625 000 more. Yet now comes by cable the pitiful story that in Saturday's London newspapers no less than seventy five of the queen's servants in the gardens of Kew palace print a letter begging relief from their intolerable poverty and declaring that after paying rent for their tenements they have only $2 a week for the support of their families. Surely the queen who has just secured an additional annuity of $30 000 a year for the German beggar Battenberg will be moved to do something for the suffering English servants who are starving in her own employ.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

More About the "Pall Mall Gazette's" Exposures.

THE DRIFT OF PUBLIC OPINION.

The Prince of Wales Believed to be Innocent—Rumors of Trouble on the Russian Frontier—Spread of Cholera in Spain

NEW YORK Aug 3—The Sun's cablegram from London says: The atmosphere of parliament is fetid with scandal. Shocking charges are freely brought against both young and old and politicians heedless of debate are discussing only the latest scandals. It seems as though the Pall Mall Gazette's exposures would create in addition to a moral revolt a political campaign of personal scandals. The criminal law amendment bill previously unheard of is now the most important measure of the session, and the house is crowded whenever it is up for debate. The most notorious libertines in parliament are vying with each other to propose the most stringent restrictions. The revelations of the Pall Mall Gazette and the subsequent agitation by that paper of the necessity for suppressing the evils discovered have fairly convulsed the country. Immense meetings continue to be held daily throughout England and the Wesleyan conference at its session to-day unanimously passed resolutions of thanks to the Gazette for the thorough manner in which it had performed its good work. Similar resolutions are adopted almost daily by bodies representing all sects and creeds

THE EDITOR SPEAKS.

A meeting was held in the Cannon hotel to-night to appoint committees and perfect arrangements for a huge demonstration in Hyde park to take place in about a fortnight. Among those present was William Stead, editor of the Gazette. Stead was introduced by the chairman and cheered for fully five minutes before he was able to make himself heard. When partial quiet was restored Stead made a stirring speech occupying about a half hour. Among other things he said it was the duty of every man and woman to calmly consider the iniquitous state of affairs which existed, and then utter one loud "damn." No one could read the account of the disclosures without resorting to that word to give vent to his feelings and any person who did not express his condemnation should himself be damned. The cheers which followed this utterance were deafening, men and women vying with each other in augmenting the din, and when the men were compelled by hoarseness to cease yelling the women still lifted their voices in approval of the sentiments of the speaker

THE LEGHORN SENSATION.

The name of the Catholic priest recently arrested at Leghorn for enticing young girls to ruin by means of a pretended orphanage is Bruzza. He called his institution the asylum of San Fillippo de Fieri, and apparently repentant Magdalens were enrolled as sisters in the service of the house. When the police entered the place by breaking in the doors they found twenty little girls held in captivity. One of them was about to become a mother. Bogus sisters of charity secured clients, and also made victims while going about the city soliciting alms. Father Bruzza, who is now in a cell in the municipal prison, vigorously denies the charges but the evidence against him is overwhelming. The mother superior of the institution fled from the city but was subsequently arrested, and many other arrests are expected. Monsignor [illegible] bishop of Leghorn, was greatly affected, and burst into tears on hearing the charge and proof against Father Bruzza

THE DOUBTERS.

Debate pro and con, on the propriety of the Gazette's action seem to increase in volume. High church guardians are very severe in their strictures—not even sparing the Mansion house committee. An incident is related from the best possible source of inquiry that the archbishop of Canterbury showed his chief interest when the fact was developed that one of the principal cagnips was in Park Lane, the swellest locality in London. The archbishop held up his hands in amazement when assured that this was a fact and exclaimed: "Why, just think what rent they must have to pay."

There are distinct symptoms of revulsion in public opinion as to the truth of the Gazette's revelations, at least as to the character and standing of men intimated by that paper as guilty of the crimes exposed. Those who read the Gazette's articles will remember that practically all allegations were made upon authority of procurers and procuresses themselves, in some instances reformed. This revulsion is in spite of the report of the Mansion house committee, and is due to the absence of any direct or trustworthy evidence gained by the Gazette secret commission so far as appears.

Discussion in parliament of the criminal law bill exhibited frequent expressions of incredulity among members as to the existence of vice in London either so deep or extensive as reported. As to certain names, at least of noblemen and members of parliament privately given to the commons it can be proved positively it is stated, that it was improbable that their owners could have been guilty of the crimes charged. Women on whose sole word of truthfulness the authenticity of the charges rests, instead of betraying their real customers are alleged to have defamed men of whom they knew nothing. This is the habit of women of their class

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

In behalf of the Prince of Wales and the king of the Belgians, who have been publicly mentioned as constant customers of procuress Jeffries, it is urged that the scandal is obviously untrue. King Leopold, for instance, rarely comes to London and when here every hour is practically in the eye of the public. His every movement is chronicled, and even his sleep is programmed. So with the Prince of Wales. The life of the heir apparent is open to the world. He must live almost like a slave. His mornings are passed in dictating letters to secretaries and almost every afternoon or evening is devoted to some public engagement. His other evenings with probably not an exception are spent at receptions, balls and theaters during the season to which he uniformly conducts the princess, and at his country house at Sandringham at other periods. It is alleged that he always returns to Marlborough house with the princess after a ball or theater and has supper with her there. His life within the past few years has become notably and obviously a domestic one. It is at least certain that the recent scandals do not affect his popularity. He is received at Goodwood and Hyde Park, and everywhere he is received with the customary warmth of greeting

THE GRANT MEMORIAL SERVICES.

LONDON Aug. 3. The Duke of Cambridge, commander in chief of the British army, marquis of Lorne, General Lord Wolseley and M. Martinez, Chilian ambassador to England, have signified their intention of being present at the memorial services in honor of General Grant at Westminster Abbey to-morrow. Gladstone also says he will go if his health permits. The Prince of Wales and Duke of Connaught will be represented by equerries. The Duke of Argyle, John Bright and many other distinguished gentlemen have written letters expressing their regret at not being able to attend

SOME TERRIBLE FACTS.

LONDON Aug 3. Mr Turnbull a Chicago barrister has surprised the political and literary public by an article in the Nineteenth Century showing that the English government is really democratic, with the commons dominating the queen and the lords, while the United States government is really aristocratic. The president's veto power equals two-thirds of the legislators and the senate, not popular elective fairly, holds the representatives in captivity, while the supreme court can set aside all statutes if so disposed

MADRID, Aug 3—The number of new cases of cholera throughout Spain yesterday was 3317, deaths 1 64. In this city there were ? new cases and 2 deaths reported

DISASTROUS STORMS.

THE AFGHANS CAUSING TROUBLE.

VIENNA Aug 3—A dispatch to the Political Correspondence from St Petersburg says Afghan bandits have plundered a Russian caravan. The same dispatch says there is a rumor in St Petersburg that Russian officers report that they are doubtful of preserving peace owing to the menacing attitude of the Afghans

CONSIDERED UNTRUE.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1885

THE ODIOUS "FARCE"

The row about the management of the Indianapolis postoffice rages with great fury Democratic organs all along the line are pouring hot shot into the mugwumps, the civil service law and the president. The New Orleans Times-Democrat declares that "the removal or the reprimanding of Postmaster Jones will almost certainly make Mr Hendricks the democratic presidential candidate in 1888" The Indianapolis Sentinel (Hendricks's organ) exclaims "When will this farce end? How many wrongs are perpetrated under the cloak of 'civil service reform' no one can tell. The St. Louis Republican declares that "when the democratic party is attacked in the rear by mugwump deserters from the republican camp it is time for democrats to drop the tariff issue and every other issue until the great issue of whether the democratic party is to be wiped out is settled And so it goes, all round! The perturbation is extreme, and it is becoming evident that the democrats will not have any kind of civil service that keeps them out of the offices A great majority of the leading organs of the party are opposed to the "humbug," and are constantly growing bolder and fiercer in their denunciations of it.

The democratic state convention of Ohio is to meet in about two weeks, and the Cincinnati Enquirer, the great democratic organ of the Ohio river country, is urging upon the delegates the necessity of carrying through the convention a declaration against "the civil service chicane" through which democrats are kept out of their inheritance, and such "outrages as that at Indianapolis are perpetrated It is not unlikely that a resolution of this kind will be offered and adopted The democrats of Ohio retired Mr Pendleton from the senate solely because of his agency in securing the enactment of the civil service law, and elected in his stead an inferior man, who would "promise good things to the boys. Pendleton got only fifteen votes out of the eighty two in the democratic caucus, and the result, as the New York Tribune truly says, "was everywhere interpreted as a distinct repudiation of civil service reform by the democratic party" The only argument used against Pendleton by his democratic opponents was the fact that he had advocated the civil service act.

Meantime the mugwump press is increasing the vigor and severity of its fire upon the "Bourbon spoils-hunters," as it denominates the "straight" democrats of the country who think the offices ought to be filled with democratic workers, that service to the party ought to be rewarded, and that civil service examiners ought not to be permitted to go about the country to disturb the quiet enjoyment of the offices by democrats, as has just been done at Indianapolis At Chicago, too, though a democratic postmaster has been appointed he is so hampered by the civil service commission as to be unable to make any considerable change in the force, and the democratic political workers are making loud complaints. Likewise the change in the superintendency of the mint at San Francisco does not bring the results that were expected—applicants for places being told that a commission will soon sit to pass upon their qualifications To think of "qualifications" being mentioned to a democrat, who regards his "service to the party" as qualification enough It was a sad day, indeed, for our democratic brethren, when they came into the inheritance of this republican civil service system Big democrats can get the big offices, but the multitude of more humble yet not less efficient democratic workers can't come into the minor places which they have so hardly earned, except by competition with others who "never did anything for the party," and perhaps also with republicans. It is only, however, in the large cities that these regulations give trouble Provincial democrats are better off. Them the "farce" doesn't molest. But in the offices where there are many employes the civil service examiners have taken their stand, and in them there is woe enough.

INTERESTING REMINISCENCES

Captain John Birmingham who witnessed the launching of the first steamboat—the New Orleans—in western waters, at Pittsburg in 1811, is still living From a statement given by him the Pittsburg Dispatch has prepared an account of the event In early days vessels rigged for the sea were built at Pittsburg, and carried western products to New York to Philadelphia, to the East and West Indies, to England and to the Mediterranean It was concerning a Pittsburg vessel that Henry Clay the great champion of American industry related the following incident in a speech delivered in the United States senate more than fifty years ago

> To illustrate the commercial habits and enterprise of the American people I will relate an anecdote of a vessel built and cleared at Pittsburg for Leghorn When she arrived at her place of destination the master presented his papers to the custom house officer who would not credit him and said to him "Sir your papers are forged there is no such port as Pittsburg in the world your vessel must be confiscated" The trembling captain laid before the officer the map of the United States directed him to the Gulf of Mexico pointed out the mouth of the Mississippi river led him a thousand miles up it to the mouth of the Ohio and thence another thousand up it to Pittsburg "There sir is the port from whence my vessel cleared out" The astonished officer [illegible] had seen the map would as readily have believed this [illegible] navigated from the moon

The early settlers of Ohio Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri nearly all went down the Ohio river in boats from Pittsburg In April, 1788, the first colony of New England pioneers, forty eight in number, for the settlement of Marietta, Ohio, reached Pittsburg in boats, which they had built on the Youghiogheny one of the main tributaries of the Monongahela. They dropped down the Ohio to the mouth of the Muskingum These people under the leadership of General Rufus Putnam of Connecticut, were the advance guard of that New England migration which has done so much to develop the great west. Other companies large and small, followed in succeeding years, and took boat on the Monongahela or the Ohio for their new homes on the lower river or the interior of the states that border it. Gradually from small beginnings the boating business was developed to meet the requirements of the adventurous and daring population drifting to the flat lands of the Ohio and Kentucky bottoms. From 1790 to 1796, barges ran regularly from Pittsburg to the Kaskaskia in Illinois, with supplies and dry goods returning laden with furs received in exchange therefor

By the year 1800 swift rowing barges fitted up with some regard to the comfort of passengers, were run frequently from Pittsburg to Limestone, now Maysville After Louisiana had been purchased in 1803, this movement became very general. Most passengers, instead of following the rivers in their long detour would debark at Limestone and take an overland trail through Lexington, Nashville, and so on to the lower Mississippi where they would embark again for New Orleans An old directory of Pittsburg says "Keel boats and barges took nearly a whole summer for a trip down and up There would be great crowds to greet the arrival of a boat at our landing from down the river They would take down dry goods and general merchandise and bring back furs from St. Louis, cotton from Natchez, hemp, tobacco and saltpeter from Louisville and sugar and molasses from New Orleans These in their turn would be wagoned to Baltimore and Philadelphia." The following is a portion of an advertisement that appeared January 11, 1794, in the Sentinel of the Northwestern Territory, published at Cincinnati

> Two boats, for the present will start from Cincinnati for Pittsburg and return to Cincinnati in the following manner viz First boat will leave Cincinnati this morning at 8 o'clock, and return to Cincinnati so as to be ready to sail again in four weeks. The second boat will leave Cincinnati on Saturday the 30th inst. and return to Cincinnati in four weeks as above. and so regularly each boat performing the voyage to and from Cincinnati and Pittsburg once in every four weeks.
> Two boats in addition to the above will shortly be completed and regulated in such a manner that one boat of the four will set out weekly from Cincinnati to Pittsburg and return in like manner
>
> The proprietor of these boats having maturely considered the many inconveniences and dangers incident to the common method hitherto adopted of navigating the Ohio, and being influenced by a love of philanthropy and a desire of being serviceable to the public has taken great pains to render the accommodations on board the boats as agreeable and convenient as they could possibly be made
> No danger need be apprehended from the enemy as every person on board will be under cover made proof against rifle and musket balls with convenient port holes for firing out of Each of the boats is armed with six pieces carrying a pound ball, also a number of good muskets and amply supplied with plenty of ammunition strongly manned with hands and the masters of approved knowledge.
> A separate cabin from that designed for the men is partitioned off in each boat for accommodating ladies on their passage
> Passengers are supplied with provisions and liquors of all kinds of the first quality at the most reasonable rates possible.

It is, indeed, more marvellous than any romancer's story to look back over this brief period of less than a century—a period not more extended than a long human life, and only a point of time in national existence—and note the changes and their wondrous results More happens now in a single lifetime than formerly took place in the course of ten centuries

A PRINCIPAL OBSTACLE

One of the chief drawbacks to the introduction of manufacturing industry here is the disinclination of business houses in Portland to handle Oregon goods Hence arises a constant opposition to products of Oregon manufacture from men who are interested in handling articles manufactured elsewhere. Jobbers, commission merchants and dealers in goods manufactured in California and the eastern states, as a rule, don't want any development of the products of Oregon in the same lines, hence they not only decline to push Oregon goods, but by the policy they pursue render it almost impossible for Oregon manufactures to get a footing in our own markets This is not the least of the difficulties attending the introduction of manufacturing industry here. The policy is narrow and selfish, it deadens enterprise and prevents progress Whoever tries to put an Oregon product on the market finds extreme difficulty in getting the jobbers and dealers of the country to handle it.

This is no small matter It is one of the greatest of all obstacles to the extension of the range of Oregon's industries The Portland dealer would rather sell California canned fruits and pickles, Kansas City canned beef or Ottawa starch, than to handle similar articles of home manufacture, the leather dealer or harness maker discourages Oregon leather by declining to deal in it, thus driving this important branch of manufacture to California, rope made here, though of best quality has had great difficulty in getting into the home market vehicles of eastern manufacture have been pushed by jobbers and dealers in preference to those manufactured by Oregon labor and out of Oregon materials furniture that might have been made here has been brought from the east, and many persons here habitually have their clothing made up in eastern cities, and no doubt would send their faces there to be shaved if they could. There is no direction in which home industry gets the encouragement to which it is entitled and which it must have, if we are ever to lay the foundations here of diversified industry and real prosperity.

BENEVOLENT CRUELTY

After an attendance of several years, a class of twenty Indian boys and girls were graduated last week from the Indian school near Salem They had been taught the common English branches, and, on the closing day, demonstrated their good scholarship by an "exhibition" which is described as a "revelation of the Indian capacity" Technical examinations showed the instruction to have been thorough and essays, well written and unexceptionable in sentiment, showed real capacity and development. In addition to their school course, the boys had been taught the use of tools and the girls how to sew The chief purpose of the school has been to give them knowledge and the industrial training has been incidental.

All this appears very fine, but the question now arises, what is to become of these graduates? They have been raised above the level of the Indians, but not up to that of the whites They are, of course, poor and there is no provision for establishing them in the world They are unwelcome wherever they go If their acquirements are permanent, if they really have the sentiments of civilization which their essays suggest their education will be a curse to them, for it will make the degradation to which they have returned and which they cannot cure, loathsome to them

The "Indian effort" at the government school is upon the wrong theory that knowledge produces civilization No account is made of the tendencies inherited from many generations of savage grandfathers. It seems not to be known that civilization cannot be fitted on the Indian ready-made, like a store coat. It does not appear to be understood that the Indian race, like any other race of barbarians, must be prepared for civilization by settled habits of industry and self support The sort of effort that picks out a boy here and a girl there, one out of every hundred of those growing up, and puts enough into their heads to unfit them for association with their kindred and kind, is nothing short of cruelty

Hoadly democratic governor of Ohio, in his proclamation announcing General Grant's death, says "Through his labors and those of the brave men he led six millions of freedmen celebrate the blessings of liberty secured to them and their posterity" It is very true and one of the marvels of Grant's career is the fact that it compels this acknowledgement from the democratic party, which resisted to a man, and with a frenzy never witnessed at any other time in the history of our politics, the leading of these six millions out of bondage into freedom This world is full of miracles, compared with which Paul's conversion ranks as a simple, every-day fact

The wheat crop of the Willamette valley is not quite coming up to expectations In most localities the berry is smaller than usual, an effect, it is supposed of the four extremely hot days of early July There is nothing approaching a failure—simply a shortage of a bushel or two to the acre on the extravagant estimates of two months ago Cutting is about three-fourths done but the grain is still in the fields, cocked or in stacks In eastern Oregon and Washington the yield has been even larger than the estimates and the crop is mostly already cared for It is thought that the total export surplus will not fall far short of 300,000 tons.

Yesterday a statement was made in our local columns that it was supposed by some that the dispute over the county seat question in Josephine county had a relation to the recent contest for the senatorship, since "it is well known that Mr Sol Abraham is a firm friend personally and politically of Hon Sol Hirsch" There could not well be a greater blunder since, on the contrary it is well known that Mr Abraham is not a friend personally or politically, of Mr Hirsch, and that he preferred the election of anybody rather than Hirsch to the senate

Korea which but a little while ago was absolutely closed against foreigners is advancing rapidly and now invites the commerce which she formerly prohibited Judge O N Denny of this city, was invited by cable last week to come over for the purpose of organizing and superintending a customs system. We understand that he has declined

In discussing the question whether it is cheaper to bring vessels up to Portland or load them at Astoria, the Astorian, replying to THE OREGONIAN gets warm. This seems to be needless. The question is one of simple calculation. Taking the facts as they are THE OREGONIAN has demonstrated that it has hitherto been and is yet found cheaper to load at Portland. That is all there is of it. When it is found that money can be made by loading at Astoria vessels will be loaded there and the Portland buyer and shipper would as willingly load them there as here So far, however, his experience has shown him that it is less costly to bring the vessels up to Portland than to boat the wheat to Astoria, just as vessels ascend the St. Lawrence to Montreal for cargoes, instead of stopping at Quebec. Has the weather been unusually warm at Astoria? Our esteemed contemporary there seems to give evidence that it has.

WASHINGTON CADETS

Some months ago when militia companies began organizing through the efforts of Adjutant General R G O'Brien and an interest was shown in military affairs Mr S M Percival a young merchant of this city, took into his head that it would be well to organize a company of cadets and with this purpose in view he succeeded in inducing about twenty five boys to join his company and commenced drilling them The little fellows took quite an interest in the matter and carefully followed out their instructions and saved up all their pocket money until they were able to appear in a very neat uniform procured for them by Captain Percival On Friday evening last according to previous announcement the company marched to the public square and competed for a handsome gold medal presented by Lieutenant Brown of the Capital guards of this city In the presence of at least 1000 persons At 8:30 the judges Adjutant General R G O'Brien, Captain Haines of the Seattle rifles and Captain Ten Eyck of the Capital guards appeared on the parade ground and the competition began each member going through the exercises separately with great credit to themselves and their instructor As the evening advanced it was found necessary to adjourn to Columbia hall where the exercises were continued until the entire company had been examined when the adjutant general announced that the prize for the best drilled member was unanimously awarded to Nathan Wolff a decision that was received with loud applause Captain Percival is deserving of the highest credit for the pains taken by him in drilling his company and many an old soldier present was put to shame in witnessing the precision with which these boys went through their evolutions

HOSPITAL FOR INSANE.

As the legislative session approaches the public begin to realize that legislation must necessarily take place in the interest of this humane and important institution so as to meet the demands of an unfortunately rapidly increasing class of persons In 1880 according to the census there were but ninety one patients in the insane asylum at Steilacoom while at the present time there are about 180 making a terrible increase in five years and yet with a few exceptions the same number of buildings are used, and the same quantity of help is employed as in 1880

From Dr Alden H Steele who has had charge of the hospital lately during the temporary absence of the superintendent Dr Waughop it is learned that the force at present consists of one superintendent one accountant one warden, three assistant wardens one outside warden one night warden and a teamster and for the female wards one matron two assistant matrons and one laundress Dr Steele speaks very highly of the efficiency of the employees but considers it necessary that another assistant matron should be employed during the night and perform the same duties in the female wards as the night watchman in the male wards, so that the day force should remain undisturbed during the night He is also of the opinion that the services of a person competent to make up prescriptions, and at the same time to assist the accountant in his clerical duties which are now entirely too weighty for one man to attend to should be secured To intrust this important position to a patient would be decidedly wrong and would neither be economical nor profitable It is also thought that the legislature should seriously consider the importance of appropriating say $16,000 per annum for two years for the construction of two frame buildings which at a rough figure would approximate about $8,000 for each building and $[illegible] for repairs Should one of the buildings be constructed next year for the use of the females the superintendent could then make use of the present female wards for the males and the result in every way would be beneficial. It is to be hoped that members of the coming legislature will look carefully into this matter and be prepared to vote upon it knowingly

A QUITTED ON THE GROUND OF SELF DEFENSE.—Henry Pugsly, who killed James McIntosh on the banks of the Willapa, in Pacific county, W. T, nearly two weeks ago, had an examination before a justice of the peace in that precinct and was acquitted on the ground that the deed was excusable homicide A correspondent of the Oysterville Journal furnishes the following account of the killing, as obtained from the testimony at the examination: "McIntosh and Hastings had a quarrel, and McIntosh came at Hastings with an ax whereupon Hastings stood him off with a couple of wedge axes and told him not to come any further. Hastings then said he would quit and Pugsly said he would quit too McIntosh said to him 'No you won't go back and go to work' Pugsly tried to pass and McIntosh rushed upon him with a shovel, and Pugsly dodged down. As he dodged he picked up an ax that was lying in the chute, and raised up and shoved the ax at McIntosh The ax struck McIntosh on the left arm cutting through the arm and thence diagonally down between the ribs and entering the heart, killing him almost instantly It seems that Pugsly was in a place where he could not get out of the way, and was forced to defend himself If he had not dodged just as he did the shovel would have severed his head from his body"

Louisgnot was appointed by Springer keeper of the swine, and all left Next morning Louisgnot put in an appearance in the capacity of an officer but was not armed with the necessary credentials whereupon Druckman refused to recognize his legal authority and a small sized row ensued Louisgnot laid charges of assault and battery against Druckman his wife and hired girl and filed three complaints against Druckman's hired man namely, carrying concealed weapons, threatening to kill and assault and battery Druckman had Louisgnot arrested for assault and battery The court heard all the seven cases and took them under advisement

SUPERINTENDENT OF STREET CLEANING.—Councilman Fliedner has expressed strong disapprobation at the somewhat sudden removal of Fred D Mathews from the office of superintendent of the street cleaning department by the committee on streets and public property, and the appointment of Charles Oliver to the position Others of the council have thought it possible that the street committee might be induced to reconsider this removal and appointment but from conversations with the members of the committee this is not thought probable Oliver has taken charge of his new office and daily superintends the street cleaning The auditor has a warrant for about $1000 in his possession, which is now due and payable to the employes of that department but has received no instructions yet as to whom he shall deliver the same It is thought the matter will form a topic of discussion at the council meeting to-morrow night

ROUGH ON OREGON BUTTER.—It is a melancholy fact that many farmers or their wives can no more make butter than they can fly and that is the reason that the product of their churns called butter by courtesy will not bring ten cents per pound, while a choice dairy article like that from Reedville, is retailing in this city at thirty cents per pound. A wholesale grocery house on Front street having more of this "Oregon butter" on hand the other day than was desirable concluded to ship ten kegs of it to a San Francisco provision dealer They did so and yesterday they received the following letter about it "We had some of the butter opened, and by mistake our cooper left one exposed last night. This morning we found a rat perched on the edge of the keg crying like a child It was too rough for him If this is a fair sample of Oregon butter we want no more of it. LOW WAGES FOR HARVEST HANDS—Washington county is overrun with men seeking work in the harvest field or at least with fellows who claim to be seeking work Although the demand for labor this year is larger than usual, this flood of applicants has had the effect of bearing wages and the highest price paid for ordinary laborers is only $1 per day and board. Some employers have secured forces at the rate of ten cents per hour and board so that when their machines break down or their horses need a rest, the hands are idle at their own cost. The average harvest hand will work for reduced wages without grumbling, provided he is supplied with plenty of chicken and pie three times a day but when the pie crop falls short he rebels.

MYSTERIOUS POISONING.

Harry C Whitney of East Portland the Victim of Horrible Suffering

He Charges that His Death was Attempted by a Supposed Friend in Order to Get $5000 Insurance

A startling story comes from the lips of Harry C Whitney a young man well known in this city, as a clerk and accountant who was taken suddenly sick several days ago while calling at the house of a friend Mr Henry Barber in East Portland. There were rumors that young Whitney had tried to commit suicide and in order to quiet such stories he yesterday sent for a reporter of the Evening Telegram who was a personal friend, and gave him the following singular statement which charges the crime of attempted murder but implicates no one Mr Whitney said

About three weeks ago I was walking along the street one afternoon and met a friend who offered me a cigar I accepted it, and after smoking it I was for some reason insensible from 3 o clock till 8 in the evening When I recovered my senses I felt rather ashamed of the fact I had allowed myself to be doped and so said nothing about it

A week ago last Wednesday, while walking the street I met the same man who had given me the cigar He greeted me kindly, and gave me an urgent invitation to come and take dinner with him. They had mutton and set forth for dinner I ate but little of it as I am no fond of mutton Next came rice pudding of which I am very fond. I ate of it heartily, and not having eaten much previously I accepted a second dish.

I noticed the husband did not eat any and when the little girl cried for it she was told she had eaten enough and was sent away from the table. The wife took some of the pudding on her plate, but I now remember she did not eat any of it as I recollect I saw her throw the pudding into the slop bucket as I went to get a drink of ice water

"I had not gone far after leaving the house before I felt sick at my stomach and vomited A the pain was intense I called on Dr [illegible] Young in East Portland He thought I had eaten green fruit but I knew better However he gave me ipecac to settle my stomach I felt bad that night and next day In the afternoon I came here to Mr Barber's house and while sitting in a chair I was suddenly taken with a spasm. This was about 2 o'clock They sent for Dr Wigg, and, I am told I lay in the spasm about two hours The day and a half following I had 114 spasms each successive one being farther apart. As soon as the physician saw me, I am told he said I was poisoned He did not dream of poison when he stopped my vomiting. Now the poison is in my whole system, I cannot lift my legs and they seem paralyzed Until recently my arms have been strong but now they seem to be getting weak I have faith I can pull through but it has been a terrible time and no man knows what I have suffered

I called my lawyer when I realized I had been poisoned, and told him the whole case He said I did not have sufficient evidence to convict any one of poisoning me and I determined not to divulge the names of the parties whom I believed did it"

THE MOTIVE.

"I must explain in order that you can see how reasonable it is to think I was poisoned purposely, that I knew my entertainer's wife back in the states. Though he is an educated, keen man he is no good, and after I was sick last winter because of my friendship for her I had $5,000 of my life insurance policy made payable to her little girl I told her of it but asked her not to tell her husband I believe now she did tell him.

"One of my friends called on me the other day and told me some of the stories in circulation on the street and so not that I care but to set others in a right light I have made a statement of my case, as I understand it. I may say further that I sent word to my host to come and see me but he will not. I shall not divulge his name No one here knows who he is"

At this point in the interview Mr Whitney seemed quite exhausted. His eyes stood out prominently and seemed fixed He began to double up with his head backwards and those who stood near said, "He is in another spasm"

Stepping into another room Mr Barber said to the writer He told the whole story just the same as he has a dozen times before but he never tells the name of the man whom he thinks poisoned him This is the first spasm he has had for twenty two hours

The physician was interviewed by the reporter and stated that every symptom in Mr Whitney's case pointed to poisoning. While the symptoms were like strychnine some of the characteristics are lacking. There is a drug made from the [illegible] berry which would leave a man in Mr Whitney's condition and it is possible Dr Wigg says to extract the poison by alcohol and again get it into a [illegible] by soaking it with the liquid.

The unfortunate part of the affair is that it was not known sooner that the man was poisoned

In a few minutes Mr Whitney came out of his spasm and appeared as bright as ever During the entire conversation Mr Whitney appeared [illegible] all that he said

THE STAGE.

THE PRIVATE SECRETARY.—Mirth and jollity indeed ruled the hour at New Market theater last evening and the very walls vibrated with the bouts of laughter evoked by that most ludicrous comedy The Private Secretary as presented by the Madison Square company Nothing so irresistibly funny has ever been seen in Portland and the house was filled to overflowing with a most enthusiastic and appreciative audience whose sides must have ached from excessive laughter Mr W H Gillette who plays the Secretary, is well entitled by this portraiture alone as a contemporary has said, to rank with the first of comedians From his introduction into the chambers of Douglas Cattermole in the first act, and all through his interview with the jolly East Indian uncle and the good natured landlady the complications of the second and the intensely ludicrous and trying situations of the last act his work is simply perfect He is the mild unsophisticated tutor ignorant of the world to an extent that might be called imbecile hustled about like a shuttle cock thrown from pillar to post yet always bobbing up serenely with imperturbable countenance and the question do you know in an intonation of voice that is indescribable The perfect immobility of countenance and peculiar inflections in speaking which Mr Gillette preserves throughout the play together with a careful attention to all the minute details of the business of the part make up a character which for ludicrousness scarce has its equal His slimness of figure too is no slight element in the success of the role aiding him as it does to make up the part so much more comically The honors of the piece are however shared by Mr M A Kennedy, as Old Cattermole the East Indian uncle This is Mr Kennedy's first appearance here for the past three years and he could not have renewed his professional acquaintances under more favorable auspices His make up was admirable he looked the good natured whole souled bon vivant, and his scenes with the secretary fairly bristled with fun Nothing could surpass the humor and unctuousness of his rendering of the part His disgust at finding the one he supposed to be his nephew a milksop and his endeavors to get him out of the way are laughable in the extreme It is a most artistic characterization and will always meet with appreciation Mr Frank Tannehill, Jr as Douglas Cattermole the wild young nephew who personates the false secretary is exceedingly clever His scenes with his landlady as well as with the young ladies at Mr Marsland's house are excellently done and show him to be an actor of considerable promise His scene with the spinster Miss Ashford evoked considerable amusement and his embarrassment in managing his surreptitious chicken and a discussion on spirits at the same time, was very funny Miss Fannie Addison as the spinster Miss Ashford filled with spiritualistic theories and yearning for manifestations gave a very strong piece of acting and in the table tapping scene with the Rev Mr Spaulding she was immense. Miss Maud Haslam and Miss Lula Talbot as Edith and Eva were good as were also Miss Sherwood as Mrs Stead and Miss Maud Gilroy as Mrs Spaulding, with the little Spauldings Mr. George R Bowler was very clever as the cockney tailor Gibson both in makeup and action, while Messrs H A Morey as Mr Marsland and T A Wise as his [illegible] Harry were equally good The Private Secretary has [illegible] crowded houses [illegible] great tonight

THE CASINO.—Next Friday evening the [illegible] Nashville students will open at the Casino for a season of three nights Hereafter there will be no smoking and drinking in the auditorium

From the committee on streets recommending the passage of the ordinance relating to domestic animals as amended This was practically a new ordinance and conflicted with the charter by allowing cows to run at large, except between 9 P M. and 6 A. M

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The city attorney submitted a report regarding the purchase of the franchise of the City View Park Railway Company by the street commissioner The company having fulfilled the conditions granting them the right of way he held the ordinance repealing the ordinance granting the right of way was invalid and the franchise still good The city could avoid the responsibility of becoming responsible for the debts of the company by refunding the $100 paid for the franchise without having the franchise transferred Nicholai strenuously objected to this payment of $100 as entirely unnecessary and a waste of city funds West and Gruner strenuously supported the proposition and thought it was a cheap way of getting rid of a nuisance On motion of West the report was then adopted and an ordinance ordered drawn in accordance with the report of the committee recommending the payment of the amount stated Aye West Bloomer Gruner, McAyel and Wheeler nays Laing Nicolai and Merrick.

The recorder reported that Dr George Wigg had signified his intention of suing the city for a fee of $40 for attending the alleged small pox cases if the same was refused but that he had mislaid the communication of the doctor relating thereto Dr Wigg being present was invited to make a statement He stated the family had selected him to attend the cases under directions from the marshal to select whom they chose The marshal being called for denied the allegation stating he had not employed the doctor or authorized others to do so Gruner moved to refer it to the judiciary committee but received no second and the matter was passed over without action

The city attorney reported also on the assessment against J T Stewart for the Fifth street bridge between J and K streets, recommending that he be allowed to settle according to the terms of the compromise between property owners and the city After some discussion the matter was laid over until the next regular meeting

The recorder made a statement concerning the claims of Messrs. Fralney and Lent on the Fifth street improvement fund The property involved being at the intersections of streets abutting on the bridge which had not been accepted he had not felt justified in issuing warrants to the marshal for the sale of the property He was directed to withhold the warrants until he had conferred with the city attorney.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION.

Indianapolis Times No mugwump has yet been appointed to a federal position in this state Mr Hendricks and his class were willing enough to receive their votes but they have nothing to offer in return.

Buffalo Express The republican press is doing a great and good work in saving Mr Cleveland's government from being imposed upon by the rascals who predominate in the ranks of the government party

Pittsburg Chronicle The administration evidently feels the necessity of establishing a morality test in the selection of appointees and this will shut out many anxious aspirants from participation in the spoils

New York Tribune Even The Boston Herald which helped to elect Mr Cleveland, is forced to admit that "the democratic party is in need of reform The democratic party must be reformed before it can reform the government" True, true P S Turn the rascals out

Milwaukee Sentinel There is dissatisfaction among the soldier element in Ohio over the recent change in the pension office of that state General Wyckoff a soldier with an honorable record was removed and G H Barger appointed in his place Barger was a captain in the Union army but was dismissed from the service for dishonorably leaving his command while under fire.

Boston Journal "Are Gin Mills a Necessity" is the caption of an editorial in the New York World We think not Here in Boston democratic majorities are large or small according as the number of gin mills is large or small In those localities where the gin mill is numerous the democratic majorities are very large Perhaps the World can give an answer in view of these facts

New York Herald. In our belief the American wool farmers would be most prosperous if foreign wool were admitted free of duty It is certain that American wool has brought the best prices for terms of years under the lowest duties on foreign wools The reason is that manufacturers require many different qualities of wool to mix in order to work at the greatest advantage and it is when the manufacturers are prosperous that the demand for home grown wool is most brisk

New York Sun By the recognized rule of all parties the democrats won the federal offices in the last presidential election In this country where the ballot-boxes rule parties could not be successfully maintained for a single year unless men at the head of an administration appoint as their subordinates those who concur in their measures and objects The motives that compelled Mr Cleveland to select democrats for his cabinet in the room of the Arthur republicans demand that like changes be carried through every department of the civil service

Proving his Democracy

Washington Special Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

The president manages to get along fairly well despite the heat He is not insensible to the cooling seductions of the julep and knows how to mix one He does not use a straw but rather gulps it down In this he is truly democratic The act of sucking whisky through a straw can never be ascribed to the democracy It has the tendency of centralization and the president will have none of it

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY Aug 3

Weather clear and warm. The Oregon brought a large freight, more than the usual proportion being for the upper country. Rice has shaded off at San Francisco under larger arrivals. The salmon pack estimate already printed is without doubt beneath the actual result. Nearly all in the trade concede a pack of 515,000 to 525,000 cases with a general tendency toward the extreme. No estimate has yet been received here by shippers. A few canners are working this month to fill what cans they have on hand so that the work is not altogether finished. Advices from British Columbia report a good run of fish and some canners idle.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK Aug 3—Governments very dull and steady with unchanged quotations. This has been an extremely dull day on Wall street. The fluctuations in stocks in most cases were insignificant. One of the most prominent features, however, was strength displayed by Northern Pacific preferred, Oregon and Transcontinental, Denver and Rio Grande, and Oregon Railway and Navigation, none of which at any time sold below the closing price of last week, while Northern Pacific preferred closed with a gain of ½, Denver and Rio Grande ⅝@¾ and Oregon Railway and Navigation 1⅛. The rest of the list was heavy early in the day, led by St. Paul and Vanderbilts. This was followed by a rally which carried quotations in many cases to the highest figures of the day, but New York Central, St. Paul and Lackawanna saw their highest prices at the opening, and Lake Shore and New Jersey Central late in the afternoon. During the last hour there was a slow yielding in prices, which left quotations at the close for most other stocks than those mentioned from ¼ to ¾ below Saturday's final figures. None of the so-called active stocks show extreme fluctuations of more than 1¼ per cent, and with few exceptions they are less than 1 per cent.

Mining shares were very quiet and without feature. Sales were made of California and Virginia at $2, Bulwer 47, Central Arizona 1 [illegible], Navajo 51, Belle Isle 25.

THREE OR FOUR DAYS GRACE WHICH?

MONMOUTH Aug 1 1885

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The constitution of Oregon, section 20, article 4 says: "Every act shall embrace but one subject and matters properly connected therewith, which subjects shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title."

An act approved February 20 188[illegible] entitled "An act to amend sections 5 and 6 of chapter 48 of the miscellaneous laws of Oregon as compiled by Matthew P. Deady and Lafayette Lane," provides that on all bills of exchange, negotiable promissory notes, orders and drafts payable at a future day certain within this state there shall, unless there be an express stipulation to the contrary, be grace allowed in like manner as it is allowed by the custom of merchants on foreign bills of exchange payable at the expiration of a certain period after date or after sight, except as provided in the following section.

Section [illegible]. The provisions of the last preceding section shall not extend [illegible] any bill of exchange [illegible] payable at sight [illegible] demand.

According [illegible] allowed is three days or less. But [illegible] to declare what days are legal holidays in this state, approved Feb [illegible] 1885, has the following stuck on to the end of it: "Negotiable instruments payable [illegible] holiday become due the next business day." It would seem that an enactment changing the custom of merchants, so much as this does, should be named in the title. Anyway, the act on page 60 [illegible] laws of Oregon 188[illegible], says in effect that there shall be three days grace or less, and the act same session, page 43, same day, says in effect three days or more. [illegible]

BUILD UP HOME INDUSTRY

PORTLAND Aug [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The speech of Senator Dolph before the board of trade meeting seems somewhat ironical. To advocate good and sound measures in buncombe speech is one thing, but to lead the movement in person is quite another. Senator Dolph advises support of home manufacturing as our remedy in the present depression and as a means to future prosperity. Every school boy knows that this is nothing new. But when Mr Dolph built his elegant [illegible] he imported nearly all his household furniture, etc, from dealers and factories outside of the state, and in so far as he could do it directly injured our young industry. The purchase of [illegible] the building of residences [illegible] the loaning of money at exorbitant [illegible] steps calculated to build up [illegible]. That policy has made a few rich with [illegible] but has done very little for the general welfare. The people and the laboring classes know well enough [illegible] a fine speech unless it is [illegible] by proper acts and deeds toward realization of the plans advanced [illegible] The true friend of the people will [illegible] from the home manufacturer [illegible] to help in building up the [illegible] which [illegible] support competence and wealth.

Dr Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a "cure all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. The Rising Generation

It is the opinion of a leading medical journal that it is time mothers should know how seriously the health of children is imperiled by the use of preparations containing morphia and opium, and given for the cure of colds and coughs. The chemist of the Brooklyn Board of Health, Otto Grothe, Ph D, a graduate of the University of Kiel, Germany, certifies officially that a harmless and yet effective article for such complaints has come to his notice. He refers to Red Star Cough Cure, which he found purely vegetable.

Not in the Bargain

St Louis Globe Democrat

The California democrat who came east last fall stumped the state of New York for Cleveland, made 153 speeches, and had to pawn his household goods in order to get back, was recently told by the president that he must pass through the civil service mill, and not unnaturally retorted: "There was nothing said about examinations when you asked me to make speeches for you in New York."

Surface Indications

What a miner would very properly term "surface indications" of what is beneath, are the Pimples, Sties, Sore Eyes, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions with which people are annoyed in spring and early summer. The effete matter accumulated during the winter months, now makes its presence felt, through Nature's endeavors to expel it from the system. While it remains it is a poison that festers in the blood and may develop into Scrofula. This condition causes derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, with a feeling of enervation, languor and weariness—often lightly spoken of as "only spring fever." These are evidences that Nature is not able unaided to throw off the corrupt atoms which weaken the vital forces. To regain health, Nature must be aided by a thorough blood purifying medicine, and nothing else is so effective as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

which is sufficiently powerful to expel from the system even the taint of Hereditary Scrofula.

The medical profession indorse AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and many attestations of the cures effected by it come from all parts of the world. It is, in the language of the Hon. Francis Jewett, ex-State Senator of Massachusetts and ex-Mayor of Lowell, "the only preparation that does real, lasting good."
